GOSPEL REFLECTION

The Gospel from Saint Luke today teaches us how to live our faith in daily life. Clearly, we all have faith in varying degrees and at different stages of our life. Since we cannot always judge the degree of faith in our own lives, it is impossible to judge the faith of another person. We are called simply to keep our eyes on the Lord and be aware that He is with us and asks us to follow Him. We get uneasy about our faith when it asks of us something that is out of the normal; then we often doubt our own faith. Therefore, like the disciples we must ask for the strengthen of faith to accept the hardships of following Christ. Now what really matters in faith is not its size or power - it can be as small as a mustard seed. What matters is the infinite power of the One we believe in, the Creator of the world. We are creatures, and God is our Creator. By this we mean that God alone is the source of all the good we have and are; every good thing comes from Him, even the good we do. There is nothing we have of ourselves that can impress Him or require his praise. When we praise God, we acknowledge this truth in worship, a worship we owe in justice. God deserves our worship; this is our duty, which is part, but only part, of why we go to Mass, giving God what is his by right.

OCTOBER IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

The month of October is dedicated to the Holy Rosary. The Memorial of Our Lady of the Rosary is celebrated on October 7. October falls during the liturgical season known as Ordinary Time, which is represented by the liturgical color green. This symbol of hope is the color of the sprouting seed and arouses in the faithful the hope of reaping the eternal harvest of heaven, especially the hope of a glorious resurrection. It is used in the offices and Masses of Ordinary Time.

John XXIII: The Pope of Peace

This movie tells the life story of John XXIII from his youth through his young priesthood, episcopacy, life as cardinal, and eventually his life as pope. Elected supposedly as an "interim Pope" who would just keep the status quo and listen to the advisers around him, John XXIII proved to be his own man when he surprised the Church and world by calling for the Second Vatican Council.
