GOSPEL REFLECTION

In the ancient world, salt was a precious commodity. It gave flavour and zest to food; it served as an important preservative; it also made people thirst for something more. Jesus wanted his disciples to give flavour and zest to the world through his teaching, to preserve the truth as he proclaimed it to the world, and to make the world thirst for God. Disciples are those who can season what is tasteless and preserve what could deteriorate. Disciples of Jesus are those who have that fire within: to set things on fire around us, to keep the light burning brightly and to bring a zest to life. If we do this as his disciples, we, too, will also be the "light of the world." Jesus reveals himself as one who gave flavour, zest, life, and light to those around him. This presence in the world is so very different from the presence of great people who receive attention and adulation of others, the salt that we are and the light that we radiate are also only from Jesus Himself, but must not draw undue attention to ourselves. When we reflect the glory of God, the strength is incredible! When we show forth our own strength, it is nothing. At some level, we all know that, but we are still tempted to put ourselves first rather than God.
