REFLECTION

In today's readings, Isaiah and Jesus both speak about a vineyard. God plants it, cares for it, protects it, and expects it to produce good fruit. But the vineyard produces wild grapes, and in the Gospel, the tenants even turn against the owner's son.

Today's message is simple: God has given us so much, and He hopes to see something good come from our lives.

God has given us faith, family, friendships, opportunities, forgiveness, and above all, His Son, Jesus. Sometimes, however, we can act as though everything belongs to us: my time, my plans, my money, my life. The Gospel reminds us that everything we have is ultimately a gift.

St. Paul reminds us today, "Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, make your requests known to God." Prayer helps us remember who we are and whose we are.

So perhaps we can ask ourselves

* What kind of fruit is my life producing?

* Where have I taken God's gifts for granted?

* Who needs to experience God's love through me this week?

And the good news is, God does not give up on His vineyard. At this Eucharist, Christ feeds us, strengthens us, and gives us another chance to bear good fruit.

The vineyard belongs to God. We are His people. And the fruit He desires is love.

PRAYERS FOR THE DECEASED

St Joseph's Parish Life Chain

will take place for one hour after the 11am Mass on Sunday Oct. 4th, followed by a potluck picnic social. You are invited to be a part of an important pro-life witness. Everyone is welcome to peacefully, publicly, and safely call upon our community to protect human life from conception to natural death. Let's advocate for the innocent; as Christ Himself reminds us, "Whatever you do to the least of these, you do to me" (Mt 25:40).

A Silent Peace Vigil

In a time marked by violence, division, and conflict, many people are asking how they can respond in a meaningful way. The Sisters of Providence and Providence Associates invite you to join them for a silent, prayerful vigil in solidarity with all those affected by violence.

In front of Kingston City Hall, Ontario Street, every Monday 12 noon – 12:30
