GOSPEL REFLECTION:

Gospel Reflection: This Feast of the Transfiguration is an opportunity to contemplate the “things that are above.” This life, with all its joys and sorrows, its beauty and ugliness, its triumphs and its defeats, lasts for a blink of an eye in comparison with eternity. The Lord offers all of us the opportunity to be transfigured one day, as He was on the holy mountain, by following Him up the mountain of life. If we do so, on the glorious day of our resurrection, we shall all say: “Lord, it is good that we are here!” The Transfiguration was also meant to prepare the apostles and all faithful Christians for the life of glory and the scandal of the Cross. Christ promises to glorify both the souls and the bodies of all those who live and believe in Him. While we are on this earth, we begin to share in the life and passion of Christ through his grace. Yet our souls remain weakened due to the effects of sin. Our bodies are subject to sickness, injury, and death. How comforting is the thought of a glorified soul and body. Even now, the souls of the blessed experience this glory as they see God face to face and contemplate His goodness. At the general resurrection, the bodies of the just will also be glorified. While we can scarcely begin to anticipate what this life will be like, Peter, James, and John were given a brief glimpse of it on the holy mountain.

Attention Parishioners: Do you have trouble understanding what is said in church? Because the sound echoes and reverberates in our church, people often have trouble understanding what is said even if they do not have any loss of hearing. If you have this difficulty please use a receiver with ear buds or headphones. You control the volume of your device. These receivers reduce background noise and amplify a speaker's voice for clearer communication. A transmitter connects to our sound system and delivers the sound directly to the individual receivers. You can pick up the receiver on your way into church and return them on your way out. They are found by the window in the alcove in the Gathering Area (Vestibule-Atrium). It is better if you use your own ear bugs or headphones, but a few are provided by the parish. You can also use a small FM radio tuned to 91.5.

Prayer for Summer Holidays

Lord God, Creator of all things, guide our steps and strengthen our hearts, during these months of summer and vacation days.

Grant us refreshment of mind and body.
We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Does anyone have pictures of the Dedication and Blessing of the Revised Church on 13 December 2003? We would like some pictures for the archives as we will be celebrating the 40th Anniversary of the Establishment of St Paul Parish in 2024.
